DEPARTMENT OF ACCOUNTING AND INFORMATION MANAGEMENT

THE UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE

(Ratified on February 21, 1986, by unanimous vote of the Department of Accounting and Information Management. Amended, April 30, 1991; September 24, 1999; March 21, 2003; January 21, 2008; February 13, 2009.)

Preamble:

These by-laws establish the overall organization of the Department of Accounting and Information Management (hereinafter referred to as the Department) and provide for the cooperation, advice, and consent of the departmental faculty in the conduct of the Department's affairs, all within the general framework of the organization and regulations of the College of Business Administration and The University of Tennessee. [cf. Faculty Handbook, Sec. 1.4.3].

I. Faculty Membership in the Department

Faculty membership in the Department consists of all persons holding regular or temporary departmental appointments as Lecturers, Instructors, Assistant Professors, Associate Professors, and Professors. All faculty members are encouraged to actively participate in departmental activities, including discussions in faculty meetings.

A. Voting Rights

- 1. Tenured or Tenure-Track Faculty. All full-time faculty members who are appointed to tenure or tenure-track positions in the Department have voting rights on issues considered by the faculty. Voting membership includes persons on joint appointments with the Department and some other research, administrative, or teaching department, bureau, or office within the University. Departmental Emeritus Professors are nonvoting faculty members.
- 2. Participating, Non-Tenure Track Faculty. All non-tenure track faculty members who are "participating faculty", in accordance with AACSB standards, may vote on all issues related to curriculum in which they participate. E.g., a non-tenure track faculty who participates in the undergraduate (Master of Accountancy) program may vote on undergraduate (Master of Accountancy) curriculum issues.

- 3. Faculty on Leave. Faculty members who are on full- or part-time leaves of absence (or reduced-time) have the voting status that would be available to them were they not on leave. In the conduct of ongoing departmental business, the vote of a faculty member on leave must be sought only in those cases where that vote would determine the outcome of an issue. In such cases, the determination of the final decision of the faculty is suspended until the vote of the faculty member on leave is received.
 - 4. Voting on tenure and promotion. Specification of voting rights in tenure and promotion decisions is covered in Section III.A.1.b. For purposes of initial hiring, all tenured and tenure-track voting faculty members shall be consulted.
 - 5. Voting by mail/email. Situations may arise in which routine matters require a faculty decision, but to defer action until a faculty meeting would unduly delay moving forward with regard to the specific action. At the discretion of the Department Head, a vote of the faculty may be taken by mail/e-mail. For votes taken in this manner, the decision will be based on a simple majority of those voting. When voting in this manner, one option available to the faculty will be to request deferral of the vote until discussion is held at the next faculty meeting. Deferral will occur if 25 percent or more of the faculty members who cast a vote so request.
- B. Department Head

The Department Head is a member of the faculty who assumes the special responsibilities of leading and administering the Department. The Head is initially appointed by the Dean of the College of Business Administration and approved by the Provost, for a term of five years. The appointment is made after consulting with the voting membership of the Department and is conducted in accordance with all required University procedures, including a search.

Near the end of the initial five-year term, the voting membership of the Department and the Dean perform a special evaluation of the Head's performance, with input as needed from other constituents. A favorable evaluation by the faculty and Dean could result in a second term that extends as long as five years. The decision to reappoint to a second term is made by the Dean and requires approval of the Provost. Serving more than two terms as Department Head is possible under unusual circumstances. [cf. Faculty Handbook, Secs. 1.4.4 and 1.4.5]

II. Departmental Business

A. Academic Policy.

Generally, Departmental academic policy matters will be decided under a system consisting of departmental faculty meetings, standing committees, special committees, and other appointments as set forth below.

B. Departmental Meetings

- 3. Agenda. The initial agenda for regular departmental meetings will be prepared by the department head and circulated in writing among the faculty at least five calendar days prior to the meeting. Additional items may be suggested by individual faculty and, at the discretion of the department head, be added to the agenda for the forthcoming meeting. Alternatively, items may be placed on the agenda by written petition of twenty- five percent of the voting faculty. All such additions to the agenda must occur at least three days prior to the meeting. In addition, agenda items may originate in departmental committees. In unusual situations involving extenuating circumstances, the department head may call a faculty meeting with less than five days notice with an agenda circulated when the meeting is called.
- 4. Proxy voting. One-half the voting membership of the faculty constitutes a quorum. A simple majority of those present and those sending proxy votes and/or absentee ballots shall decide an issue. Proxy authorization may be given by a voting faculty member in residence to any other voting faculty member, must be in writing, and must be disclosed to the presiding person at the beginning of the meeting. Proxies may be general or limited to a specific item of departmental business. Proxy votes and absentee ballots must be exercised at the time of the vote taken by the faculty members present at the meeting.

1. Assignments. All faculty will have equitable workload assignments that include an appropriate mix of teaching, research/scholarship/creative activity, and institutional and/or public service. The individual mix of these responsibilities is determined annually by the Department Head in consultation with each faculty member. Each faculty member will keep the Department Head informed of his/her professional activities. [cf. Faculty Handbook, Sec. 2.21]
2. Compensated Non-University Activities. Restrictions on and assessment of value related to compensated non-university activities will be in accordance with the rules set forth in the UT Manual for Faculty Evaluation, and CBA Faculty Evaluation Procedures and Guidelines [cf. Faculty Handbook, Sec. 7.2]
