

Neil Norman

Inquiry in Place

This course will examine the variety of functions that place serve in our lives, with a particular focus on the ways in which our lives shape and are shaped by the places where we live. In essence, this course will be looking at place in relation to identity. We will consider how personal places reflect people, but also what it takes for a public place to endure. Classes will meet on campus, but will not always meet in the classroom.