Welcome to the Linguistics Newsletter

We in the Interdisciplinary Program in Linguistics use this vehicle to pass on information we think will be useful to you, such as announcements of events, conferences, or scholarships and news about course offerings in linguistics.

Linguistics Mini-Series Fall 2004

We hope to present three speakers in fall, in events free and open to the public:

• September:

Aleka Blackwell
Middle Tennessee State Univ.
on language acquisition in children

• October:

Jeannette Allsopp
University of the West Indies
on Caribbean languages

• November:

Jeffrey Davis
University of Tennessee
on Native American sign language

Look for details on these events in an upcoming newsletter.

Linguistic Amusement

Test out your dialect against the findings of the Harvard Dialect Survey available at <http://www.hcs.harvard.edu/~golder/dialect/index>.

New Web Address

Our new easy to remember web address is: www.utk.edu/linguistics. The old one still works as well.

Certificate in Linguistics

The Certificate in Linguistics program is off to a fine start this year. It offers graduate students the opportunity to acquire a certificate of study in linguistics with 15 hours of course work plus a capstone experience. See our website or the graduate catalogue for more information. *Please note that beginning the end of this term, no more than six credit hours accumulated before admission to the program can be counted toward the certificate.
