Welcome to the Linguistics Newsletter

We in the Interdisciplinary Program in Linguistics use this vehicle to pass on information we think will be useful to you, such as announcements of events, conferences, or scholarships and news about course offerings in linguistics.

1. Spring lecture series, including Stephen Krashen
2. Fall 2005 courses
3. Interesting phonetics website
4. Conferences
5. Certificate in Linguistics

1. Linguistics Lecture Series Spring 2005

Wednesday 16 March 2005
University Center Auditorium

- 4:00 pm Oleg Tarnopolsky: Creative Writing in EFL: Why and How?
- 5:00 pm Stephen Krashen: Free Voluntary Reading: It Will Help First Language Acquisition, Second Language Acquisition, Make You Smarter, and Help You Sleep at Night
- 6:30 pm Reception at University Center Hermitage Room

Professor Krashen is probably the best known researcher and theorist on Second Language Acquisition in the US. He will be signing copies of his latest book, which will be available for purchase on site. It is a rare treat for us to host him here.

Thursday 21 April 2005
1210-1211 McClung Tower

- 4:30 pm Phil Harrison: Voice IDs, forensic phonetics, and John Lennon
Reception following talk

We hope you will join us for all three of these special events. All events are free and open to the public.
