

Stat 578
Dr. Bensmail

~~~~~

~

Step 1: go to <http://www.r-project.org>

Step 2: Click on CRAN

Step 3: Click on one of the Location preferably the one on the United State: Wisconsin

<http://cran.us.r-project.org> University of Wisconsin, U.S.A.

Step 4: clique on the program to download given your platforms (window, linux, unix or Mac)

- Linux
- MacOS \(System 8.6 to 9.1 and MacOS X\)
- MacOS X \(Darwin/X11\)
- Windows \(95 and later\)

Click on the last option if you have a window (NT or 2000)...

Step 5: You will have the following options

|                             |                                                            |
|-----------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|
| base        | Binaries for base distribution (managed by Duncan Murdoch) |
| contrib     | Binaries of contributed packages (managed by Brian Ripley) |
| unsupported | Unsupported or obsolete packages                           |

Click on base

Step 6:

Then clique on `rw1062.exe`