“Is Immigration Bad for the Environment? Neo-Malthusianism, Environmental Nativism, and Empiricism"

Nativist pressure on policy makers to push an overtly anti-immigrant agenda masquerading as environmental protection represents a form of “greenwashing” that conceals an overtly racist agenda. In this talk, I will discuss the organized movement of nativist groups within and alongside neo-Malthusian organizations and interrogate the findings of demographic research that informs (and often refutes) the messages of both groups.

Wednesday, August 27 at 12:10 in 1210*
Coffee and other refreshments will be served

*McClung Tower 1210